Update your 72-hour emergency kit

In case of a sudden emergency, do you have a plan and supplies ready? Your kit should contain basic supplies to be self-sufficient for the first 72 hours, including: non-perishable food, bottled water, blankets, a first aid kit, a flashlight.

Keep these in a backpack in the front closet, or another easily accessible spot. Be sure to include your pets in the plan, and replenish supplies every six months or more.
